Parents:

As you have probably heard by now, due to continued consistently low participation in SMART Lunch tutorials and potential safety concerns, we have decided to cancel SMART Lunch until further notice. Effective today, we will utilize an A,B,C lunch schedule where 1/3 of the school will eat lunch at a time while the remainder of the school is in class. Students have been informed of the procedures (including their assigned lunch). The bell and lunch schedule are included with this email and will be posted on our website in the next few hours. The beginning and ending time of school will not change.

Over the past year or so, and especially in the last month, we have been telling students through personal conversations and whole-school announcements that we need to see attendance in tutorials increase to justify devoting instructional minutes to SMART Lunch. Despite our reminders to attend and accurately sign in, our tutorial attendance has remained at an average daily rate of 10% of the student body. Based on attendance, I do see that we have a small portion of our student body consistently using SMART Lunch for the purpose for which it was implemented. However, with a 10% tutorial attendance rate, they are in the minority.

My sincere hope is that students will demonstrate maturity and responsibility while functioning under this schedule, and assure me that if we return to SMART Lunch they will use it productively and safely with a focus on attending tutorials in order to improve academic achievement. In the event SMART Lunch remains an unviable option, we will create a schedule that allows for academic support during the school day.

Thank you for your patience and understanding as we try to maximize our available daily minutes of instruction.
