Good morning Cary High...Please stand for the Pledge of Allegiance

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America. And to the republic for which it stands. One nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

TODAY

Today is Constitution Day! The Constitution was ratified on September 17, 1787. The Constitution is a guardian of liberties, which established our Republic as a self-governing nation dedicated to the RULE OF LAW. Think about its first three words—WE THE PEOPLE. This is a document for people who live in our nation. In almost every part of the world today, people are struggling for many basic rights we Americans have. But the ideals expressed in the Constitution cannot function without an educated public. Today, life in America calls for a high level of leadership in our schools, communities, states and the nation. Use this week to learn about and celebrate the achievements of those courageous individuals who struggled to balance a limited government with the rights and the responsibilities of American citizenship.

Attention Seniors: If you would like to be nominated for the UNC Charlotte Levine (lee-veen) Scholarship, stop by Student Services and ask to sign up to be nominated before September 29th. You must be nominated by a counselor to be eligible. Sign the clipboard today.
