

How can I be involved?

- Look at your child's performance and be sure you understand where your child stands in reading and mathematics.
- Talk with your child's teachers and principal to find out how you and your school can work together to improve your child's performance.
- Be aware of your school's performance under NCLB and the ABCs. Communicate your school's successes to your community and look for ways to support your school.
- Contact the Wake County Title 1 Office (850-1906) and find out more about how you can be involved by attending district meetings, serving on advisory committees and giving input on policies.

Goal 2008

WCPSS is committed to academic excellence. By 2008, 95 percent of students in grades 3 through 12 will be at or above grade level as measured by the State of North Carolina End-of-Grade or Course tests, and all student groups will demonstrate high growth.

Title I Parent Involvement Program

Wake County Public School System,
3600 Wake Forest Road, Raleigh, NC 27609

How are parents involved in schools?

Parent/Teacher Conferences

Parents and teachers meet regularly to discuss student progress and to strengthen home/school partnerships.

Home/School Compacts

Parents, students, and schools jointly develop agreements defining goals, expectations and shared responsibilities.

School-wide PAC (Parent Advisory Council) Meetings

Each Title I school has at least 4 meetings per year to provide information about the program, share strategies for academic success, and offer time for parents to ask questions and give feedback.

Title I Planning Committee

Each Title I school invites parents to join the planning process as they evaluate programs and plan for the coming school year.

How are parents involved at the district level?

District-wide PAC Meetings

Parents and literacy teachers who attend these meetings gain valuable information to share with other parents and teachers at the school level.

Parent Advisory Board

These parents participate in the development of the district's Title I Parent Involvement Policy and are valued partners in the program evaluation process.

Parent Resources Committee

This committee carefully reviews materials designed to enhance parental involvement in Title I schools and publishes a list of recommended parent involvement resources annually.

Parent Leadership Academy

Modeled after the program developed by the Kentucky Commonwealth Institute, parents and school leaders work together to design and implement a school wide project that will encourage parents to become involved in their own child's education and support school activities.

Summer Reading Program

Parents and literacy teachers work together to combat the "summer slump" with summer reading programs that promote interactive parent/child learning activities.

Community Partnerships

The Title I program works jointly with various community organizations on special projects to reach many families.
