October 26, 2006*

School-to-Career of Wake County, in conjunction with the Triangle Town Center, is providing a unique opportunity for 2,500 middle and high schools students to learn about a wide variety of careers by talking to area business leaders.

How you can help!

We are recruiting representatives from 125 area businesses to participate in the 4th Annual Triangle Town Center Career Fair. Volunteers are asked to talk about the varied components that comprise their career: the high school preparation, the postsecondary educational requirements, the technology employed in their jobs, the character aspects of employment such as criminal background checks and drug screening requirements.

Our Goals:

- Expose students to a wide variety of career options
- Give relevancy to the school curriculum and careers of interest
- Further student knowledge as they plan their course selections
- Understand post high school education requirements, if applicable

Logistics and Format:

Tables will be provided for displays and other visuals. Electrical outlets are available for a limited number of reservations. Participating businesses are requested to setup between 8:00 AM and 8:45 AM. Students arrive professionally dressed and prepared to engage in career discussions beginning at 9AM.
