Teacher Reflection

Teachers reflect on the PBL process, the quality of student work, and any changes to make for future use.

"The PBL went well, I was really impressed with the videos that students produced. Next year I will require students to do two videos instead of one in order to keep the videos shorter and align more with a social media template. It's hard when it's the first year finding examples to show students so I am grateful to have some now for future students. I also liked that they did a little bit of work on the cultural comparison piece for each topic after doing the lessons each day instead of everything all at once at the end."

Student Reflections

Students reflect on the learning, the effectiveness of their inquiry and project activities, and obstacles that arose and strategies for overcoming them.

- 🗨️ "I got better at my Spanish which can help me when doing hair if I have a Spanish-speaking customer."
- 🗨️ "I strengthened my computer skills in editing and using templates. Plus, I became more confident in recording my voice and hearing it. On the other hand, I recognized different organization methods that worked the best for me and my partner."
- 🗨️ "I think being bilingual is a flex within itself so being able to practice vocabulary is good."
