Teacher Reflection

Teachers reflect on the PBL process, the quality of student work, and any changes to make for future use.

“Overall, the students improved in their editing skills from their previous project. Next year, I will take out the podcast as an option and encourage them to use play-doh since it allowed them to have a bit more fun. I was just really impressed with some of the videos that were turned in and the creativity of the students.”

Student Reflections

Students reflect on the learning, the effectiveness of their inquiry and project activities, and obstacles that arose and strategies for overcoming them.

- “I learned about different foods and how the cultural norms impact what people eat.”
- “I learned a bit more about my own culture.”
- “It helped me be more creative with my video editing skills, since formatting a video for a cooking show requires different angles and techniques than the other videos I’ve made.”
