Jeff Ginsburg - Class of 2006

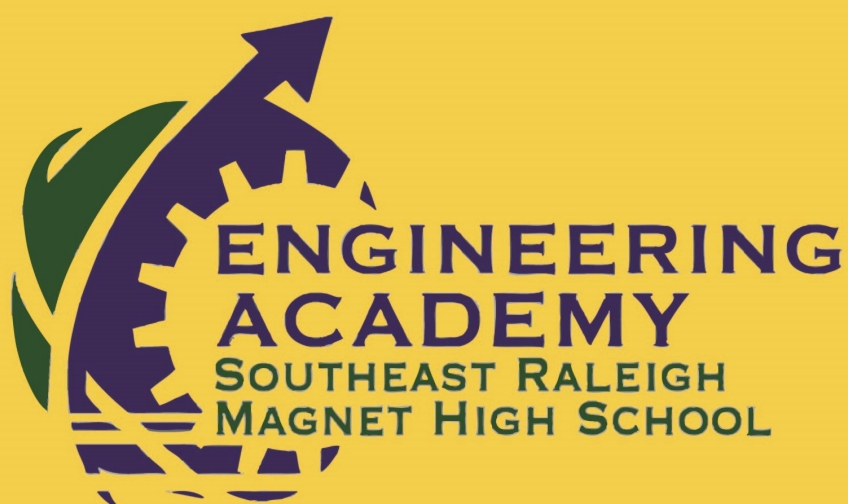

Mobile Creative Developer

“One of my first courses I took in that affected me the most was the intro to Auto-CAD course. Although I don't necessarily do Drafting in my current job, it definitely started me on the path towards design.”

“My participation on the FIRST team, specifically my 4 years on the animation division, directly led to my decision to attend Drexel University.”

“That experience introduced me to deadlines, design decisions and some of the creative challenges I deal with on a daily basis now.”

“I was also part of NAHS where I was able to design the yearly calendar, which allowed me to start learning Photoshop and Illustrator, both of which I use every day.”
