NOTES:

A Guided Observation of the Blended Classroom (BC)

Guided observations are designed for teachers of three- to five-year-olds. Participants observe and discuss best practices in one of two Project Enlightenment inclusion programs serving four-year-olds. Participants will explore ways to implement best practices in their own classrooms. Some of the “best practices” participants might observe are: literacy-rich environments, phonological awareness and alphabet knowledge, caring communities in action, positive guidance strategies, and respectful teacher/child interactions. We encourage you to observe twice- once in the fall and once in the spring so that you can see the growth in the classroom and the children.

Intentional teaching happens when teachers use their expertise and knowledge to create organized, developmentally appropriate learning experiences for children. It involves planning ahead as well as noticing the teachable moments that occur...being willing and able to adjust what you planned to do and, instead, promoting and expanding learning and exploration. Come explore new ways to turn everyday learning into extraordinary opportunities to teach skills intentionally.

Conscious Discipline® Level 3: An Even Deeper Look into the Framework

This is the final session in a 3-part series - prior participation in both Conscious Discipline Introduction and Conscious Discipline Level 2 is required for this course. Level 3 continues to empower teachers to be intentional in their approach and response to a child's behavior by integrating previously learned skills and putting them into practice. Internalizing these principles can help teachers transform moments of conflict into opportunities for self-regulation and cooperation.

About Project Enlightenment

Project Enlightenment, established in 1969, is a comprehensive prevention and early childhood education program under the auspices of the Office of Early Learning of the Wake County Public School System. Project Enlightenment's approach is to give parents, teachers, and caregivers knowledge and skills to help young children, birth through kindergarten age, be successful in school and life.

With a focus on development, learning, and social and emotional growth, Project Enlightenment provides education, consultation, resources, information, and support to those adults most important in a young child's life.

Project Enlightenment is funded by the Wake County Public School System, Wake County Smart Start, contracts, grants, fees and contributions. The program operates on a traditional school-year calendar with limited services available during July and August. Our services include:

Teacher Parent Consultation

Project Enlightenment provides consultation in early childhood classrooms around individual children. Teacher Parent Consultants (TPCs) address classroom difficulties with behavior, social development and learning for children enrolled in preschools and child care facilities in Wake County. Requests for consultation can be made by directors/teachers. In public school kindergartens and in collaboration with School Intervention Teams, TPC's provide support to parents/families of public kindergarten children. Requests for consultation are made by elementary school principals. Call 919.856.7774 for more information.

Developmental Screening

Screening services are available when concerns arise about a child's development in areas such as speech, language, and learning. If an area of significant need is identified, recommendations for intervention or for evaluation can be made. Parents can make appointments for screening by calling 919.694.8993.

About Project Enlightenment

The Alice K. Burrows

Parent Teacher Resource Center (PTRC)

The PTRC houses a variety of resources, equipment, and materials for parents and teachers. Resources include a library and video collection of over 10,000 items, exhibits of various age-appropriate activities, and a Production Area.

Preschool Classrooms for Four-Year-Olds

Project Enlightenment offers two innovative preschool classrooms, the Demonstration Preschool (DPS) classroom and the Blended Classroom (BC).

- The Blended Classroom (BC), combines NC PreK, Title 1 PreK and special education pre-kindergarten. As a full-day program, it emphasizes research-based early literacy practices in an inclusive environment.
- The Demonstration Preschool (DPS) classroom is an inclusive half-day pre-kindergarten classroom. It serves both children with developmental concerns and typically developing children.

Through planned observation classes (see the Guided Observations of the Preschool Classrooms section) the two preschool classrooms serve as training centers to help teachers and child care providers develop positive strategies for enhancing their own classrooms.

Teacher Workshop Information

Workshops for early childhood teachers and child care providers are available throughout the school year. Fees vary according to the number of sessions. CEU, Staff Development/CDA/CHC and teacher renewal credits are offered. Refer to the "About Teacher Workshops" section for further credit information.
