GLOBAL POINTS OF PROGRESS - Canada: Canada is phasing out single-use plastics to rein in pollution. The manufacturing and importing of difficult-to-recycle plastics will be prohibited this December, while a ban on the sale of single-use plastics will go into effect a year later to give businesses time to use up stocks. Six categories of plastic are part of the legislation, including checkout bags, cutlery, stir sticks, and certain straws. The government estimates the measure will reduce plastic waste by 1.3 million metric tons over the next decade.

STUDENT ANNOUNCEMENTS [GENERAL]

Calling all former Marching Band kids! If you were in your high school or college Marching Band and color guard, would you send me a picture of you in uniform or performing? I'm working on a project to show my kids how many awesome people were a part of their marching bands in high school and college. You can email pictures to me directly at mharrison3@wcpss.net. Thanks in advance for helping to spread the word on how awesome marching bands are!! 😊 Marjorie Harrison

The media center is having an art contest to redecorate the walls and shelves with new student work. Students should come by the media center to look at the various categories of fiction and non fiction to see which area they would like to represent either in painting, photography, pastels, pen and ink, collage, mosaic, mixed media or sculpture. What is your favorite type of book? Who is your favorite author? What are your passions or interests? We need art to represent the various sections of the library and we would LOVE to see your imagination, skill, talent and creativity at work! Come to the media center for more information. This contest is open to ALL students, not just those in art classes. If you love art, have some artistic talent, give it a try! Submissions are due on January 26th. Judging will take place on Jan 27th. There will be cash prizes. And there will be an art show of all student work the first week of February. People's choice awards will also be given at the end of the art show.

The Summer Training in Academic Research (STAR) Program, hosted by Duke University, provides a high-quality research experience for undergraduate students, high school students, and middle and high school teachers during the summer academic break. The eight-week program will give participants who are interested in science and medicine real hands-on experience in research methodology and writing. Participants are placed in teams and matched with Duke faculty mentors to work on an original, hypothesis-driven project, originating as a one-page summary and culminating in a complete research paper. A goal of the program is to have every participant qualify for co-authorship on a peer-reviewed manuscript related to their team's project. The STAR Program is held at the Duke Clinical Research Institute in Durham, N.C., which has organized educational and support programs for junior faculty, fellows, residents, and medical students as well as high school and college students. Participants receive a stipend to attend, which makes the program an option even for students who planned to work over the summer break (see below). The Duke STAR Program 2023 application period is November 21, 2022 to January 6, 2023. There will be no extension. The program will take place June 20 to August 10, 2023. Questions may be submitted via email (dukestarprogram@duke.edu). We regret that we are unable to respond to phone calls.
