GLOBAL POINTS OF PROGRESS - United States: A new community-owned real estate model that targets both residential and commercial gentrification has launched in southwest Atlanta. The Guild, a co-living organization, has purchased a building on Dill Avenue in Capital View, a historically Black neighborhood. During the Great Recession, residents say that investors bought up much of the commercial real estate that will give residents agency in their own neighborhoods. It plans to redevelop the

Dill Avenue property with retail on the ground level - including a grocery store, which the neighborhood requested - and 15 to 17 housing units on the upper floors.

BHS Sports & Entertainment Marketing students are so excited for our 4th annual Play4Kay fundraiser event after we raised more money for the Kay Yow Cancer Fund than any other high school in the country last year! Although we're unable to host a Play4Kay basketball game this year, we'll be carrying on two of our favorite traditions by selling commemorative t-shirts and hosting an online silent auction. We are also adding a couple of new elements this year - "flamingo flocking" and a series of restaurant spirit nights. Spirit nights are not only a way to raise money for the Kay Yow Cancer Fund but also a way to help our local restaurants who have been heavily impacted by COVID restrictions. Visit our Play4Kay event website for more information on all of our upcoming events.
