GLOBAL POINTS OF PROGRESS - United States: The success of Operation Ceasefire, a community-driven effort to reduce gun-related incidents in Oakland, California, is offering other cities a holistic model for tackling violent crime. Prompted by a spike in homicides, Oakland launched its third version of a focused deterrence strategy in 2012. Under Operation Ceasefire, police meet regularly to review recent gun violence and identify individuals who are at risk of getting involved in future incidents, either as victims or as perpetrators.

For seniors who have not yet found a college for fall, consider the College Redirection Pool (CRP). The CRP runs April 1 through August 31 to provide students with an additional opportunity to be matched with a North Carolina college or university that still has enrollment openings for the upcoming fall. The CRP module was established primarily to assist students who have been denied admission from the institution of their choice and are seeking opportunities to pursue higher education in the fall. The goal is for every student in the College Redirection Pool to be contacted by at least one of their local schools.
