Understanding ACT Score Reports

Reminders:

- When taking a standardized test, you must use your full legal name. Nicknames and/or misspellings may mark your test results invalid.
 - It should match your name on PowerSchool
- The PreACT showed you a predicted ACT range, and provided information about your strengths and areas for improvement

Your Predicted ACT Score Range

Your Predicted ACT Composite Score Range is 18–21

The scores below predict your future performance ranges when taking the full ACT in a year's time assuming typical achievement growth.

Your Detailed PreACT Results

The scores below represent your performance on reporting categories measured by the test. Reporting category designations are provided to help you to start to focus on strengths and weaknesses. Categories with only a few items may be less representative of your overall achievement in that category.

Detailed Results

MATH 19

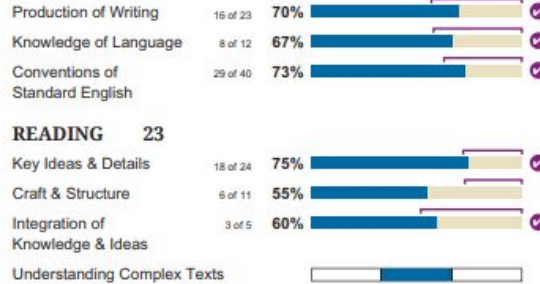

SCIENCE 18

ACT Composite Score: ACT math, science, English, and reading test scores and the Composite score range from 1 to 36. For each test, we converted your number of correct answers into a score within that range. Your Composite score is the average of your scores on the four subjects rounded to the nearest whole number. If you left any test completely blank, that score is reported as two dashes and no Composite score is computed.

ACT Readiness Range: This range shows where a student who has met the ACT College Readiness Benchmark on this subject test would typically perform.

ENGLISH 24

Understanding Complex Texts: This indicator lets you know if you are understanding the central meaning of complex texts at a level that is needed to succeed in college courses with higher reading demand.

WRITING 08

If you took the writing test, your essay was scored on a scale of 1 to 6 by two raters in each of the four writing domains. These domains represent essential skills and abilities that are necessary to meet the writing demands of college and career. Your domain scores, ranging from 2 to 12, are a sum of the two raters' scores. Your writing score is the average of your four domain scores rounded to the nearest whole number. To learn more about your writing score, visit www.act.org/the-act/writing-scores.

Dashes (-) indicate information was not provided or could not be calculated.

Immediately under your Composite Scores are your US and North Carolina ranks.

At the bottom of the page is a detailed breakdown of subtopics within each of the five test sections. Use this information to focus your study plan for future ACT/SAT tests.

Other Information

Sending Your Scores

A score report (including your photo) was automatically sent to the high school you reported when registration was completed for the test. Your school will use this information for counseling, evaluating the effectiveness of instruction, and planning changes and improvements in the curriculum.

At your direction, your scores from this test date are also being reported to the colleges shown. (Be aware that when you send a report to a college that is part of a school system, the college may share your score with other colleges in that system.) Institutions use your test scores along with high school grades, academic preparation, out-of-class accomplishments, future plans, and other factors to help identify applicants who can benefit most from their programs. In addition, colleges can use results on the ACT to assist scholarship/loan agencies in identifying qualified candidates, place students in first-year courses, and help students develop an appropriate program of study.

If you entered a college code incorrectly or forgot to include one, don't worry! You can still send scores to other colleges. Visit www.act.org/the-act/scores to explore student resources or to order additional score reports.

If you chose to send your score report to institutions, they are list on the second page of your report. Recipients will receive an electronic copy of your scores. If you would like to send additional score reports for a cost.

Retesting with the ACT

Consider retesting if one or more of the following applies to you:

- Do you feel that your scores should be higher than those received?
- Did you have any problems during the tests, like misunderstanding the directions or feeling ill?
- Have you taken more coursework or an intensive review in the areas covered?
- Do you want to apply to a college that requires or recommends the writing test?
