

The Hope Center for Youth and Family Crisis Continuum of Services

Description

Mobile Outreach Response Engagement and Stabilization (MORES)

KidsPeace provides a Mobile Outreach Response Engagement Stabilization (MORES) team for Wake County. This is a specialized crisis response service designed to engage youth and their families to address immediate crisis and assist in connection to community resources and providers to aid in the reduction of hospitalizations and out of home placement. Individuals in need of crisis services for youth can access the MORES service by contacting KidsPeace at 484-215-6756. The MORES team is available 7 days a week from 10am-10:30pm. For Crisis Services between 10:30pm-10am, please contact the Alliance Access and Information line at 1-800-510-9132.

Our MORES services include a crisis assessment and crisis planning in the community, and recommendations for the appropriate level of care. The brief intervention and assessment services are to address the immediate psychiatric, developmental and behavioral problems of individuals experiencing a crisis. Ongoing support to address needs for up to 8 weeks can include; case management to address social determinants of health, referral to ongoing care, and placement assistances when medically necessary. Aftercare planning begins at first contact and is provided at discharge from MORES to include providers who support children and family services and is based upon geographic location.

Population served

KidsPeace MORES team offers individualized crisis plans for three developmental age groups: 4 to 11 year-old children, 11 to 13 year-old preadolescents, 14 to 17 year-old adolescents.
