Leesville Elementary School Field Day... Too Much Fun!

For some, the best part of the Leesville Elementary Field Day was the water games, for some it was the tug of war, for some it was the bouncy house obstacle course, and for some (like three very lucky teachers) it was probably the act of putting a large pie in the face of the Principal. Regardless of your favorite part, it is safe to say that it was a smash hit for all of the participants.

A special thank you to event organizers, Ms. Fareena Mehdi, Ms. Julie Booth, and Ms. Rebecca Shreve, and to the whole long giant list of parent and community volunteers, who made this day one for the memory books for the staff and students of Leesville Elementary School.

Thank You to Our Tea-rific Leesville Elementary School Volun-tea-rs.

At Leesville Elementary School, we always say that one of the many qualities that make us so special and unique is our wonderful volunteers. I think that it is safe to say that there are 20 to 30 volunteers throughout the school at any given time and fulfilling any number of roles and tasks. We were so excited last week to celebrate and thank our incredibly dedicated helpers with a special afternoon treat. For the record, I have never seen our staff and faculty so quick to sign up to contribute as a way of thanking those of you, who have supported us in so many ways.

Extra! Extra! Leesville Elementary School's Newest Musical, The Aristocats... A SMASH HIT!

From the music and singing, to the choreography, to the set design, to the lighting, to the costumes, our Leesville Cubs owned the audience two nights in a row as they performed their latest production, The Aristocats. It is hard to believe that this show was produced by an elementary school community. Special recognition and thank you to Ms. Pate, Ms. Benner, Ms. Casterline, and Ms. Levy, whose contributions to this performance is immeasurable. Thank you also to the parents of our talented young Cubs, who demonstrated their own dedication to this performance and made certain that our performers were able to practice for long hours on end. Finally, Bravo and Brava to our LES Cubs for another HUGE success.
