

Istation Testing

Your child will be taking a computer based reading assessment called Istation in the coming weeks. This assessment is 'game like' as your child will participate in a series of times literacy based games. These games are actually checking on your child's foundational reading knowledge. The assessment should last about thirty minutes and your child can take breaks during the assessment as needed. Please help your child be prepared for the assessment by securing a quiet place for him/her to work. Please also help your child be successful with this adaptive computer curriculum by not providing answers for your child. This assessment should be completed by September 30 for the beginning of the year testing.
