School-to-Career

School-to-Career (STC) is an initiative and a philosophy. It is a method of delivering curriculum to our students that links classroom knowledge to real life.

Students learn better when information is made relevant, and STC ensures that relevancy occurs by linking schoolwork to workplace realities.

School-to-Career links the world of school to the world of work by supporting school-based activities such as classroom speakers, mentors, soft-skills presentations, and real-world activities and by infusing these into the Common Core through collaboration between members of the business community and classroom teachers.

Mission

The mission of School-to-Career is to prepare every student to make knowledgeable career choices through academic rigor and work-based learning experiences. This requires a systematic, comprehensive, community-wide effort.

School-to-Career involves local businesses making a difference in education!

Benefits of STC

...To Employers

- Directly affects the training of more highly-skilled and educated entry-level employees
- Lowers training costs for the employer
- Enhances a company's image within the community
- Educates the school community on a specific business

...To Students

- Connects educational/academic experiences to real world employer expectations
- Assists students in making informed career decisions so that they achieve the skills needed to be successful

...To Teachers

- Helps motivate students
- Decreases dropout rates and discipline problems
- Increases attendance as students understand the relevancy between classroom learning and the real world
- Improves test scores

School-to-Career works when schools and businesses collaborate to provide the best for students. Although School-to-Career supports a number of activities and initiatives, School-to-Career only impacts schools and students when educators and business people form authentic, collaborative relationships.
