Testing This Week

Students will take EOGs/EOCs this week according to the following schedule:

<https://docs.google.com/document/d/1vWfqgwuevoUD34PtGzVcCvM596IrWIM2J8mrjs8M5a8/edit?usp=sharing>

Students must bring their fully charged Chromebook to school every day to use for testing. We have minimal loaners and students without their own Chromebook may end up using desktops in the computer lab.

It is critical that students get to school on time during testing so that we can get everyone tested. Students that arrive late may not be able to test on that day and will have to wait in a designated location until testing is over around 11:30. Additionally, students will not be checked out during the testing window each day regardless if they are complete or not. Any early checkouts will need to happen after testing has concluded.

Please encourage your child to do their best on every test they take as these are data/credentials that are part of their K-12 school record.

Electronics during Testing

Please note that during our state testing this year, personal electronic devices will be collected by the teacher/test administrator and held in a ziploc bag with the student's name. They will be returned after testing is complete. This process is to prevent students from accessing electronics during any part of the testing process which may cause a misadministration.
