

My name is Jared Boyer and I am thrilled to join you as a new assistant principal here at Scotts Ridge Elementary!

I am originally from Kalamazoo, Michigan. In 2006, I moved to North Carolina with my young family and entered the teaching profession in Fuquay-Varina. Since that time, I have taught grades 2-5 and have enjoyed working with hundreds of students over the years.

I completed my administrative degree at Appalachian State and am grateful to continue my oceanic journey here at Scotts Ridge.

North Carolina has been home now for 15 years and we love it! I am here in N.C. with my wife, our high school daughter, two middle school sons, a third-grade son, and a bunny named Clover.

My interests include working with students, spending time with my family, being at the beach, reading books, and writing short stories. I am a huge fan of warm cookies and fresh ice cream.

My passion revolves around instilling within others a desire to learn and a belief that they can achieve their dreams. "All together" we can help every child grow, we can help every child dream, and we can help every child find success.

Thank you for welcoming me onto the ship. I look forward to joining you in the journey.

Mr. Boyer
