PERSONAL PROFILE

I moved to North Carolina two years ago. In my spare time I enjoy exploring new places, attending festivals and local events, and hiking with my dog Murphy. North Carolina is a beautiful state with so much diversity. I want to learn all that I can about its unique ecosystems so I am seeking my environmental education certification.

I also love to read and write. I am currently finishing up a writing course at the Institute of Children's Literature. One of my goals is to become a published children's author. I'd also love to do a book of silly pet poems.
